

Introducing Ex:Re

Solo Recordings By Elena Tonra From Daughter

Debut Album Ex:Re

Released Digitally This Friday, November 30th

Single + Video For 'Romance'

Plays Intimate London Show This Wednesday, November 28th

Elena Tonra, guitarist, vocalist and lyricist of Daughter, has announced details of a solo project.

Running parallel to Daughter, she's assumed the pseudonym Ex:Re (pronounced ex ray) for her eponymously-titled debut solo album, a deeply personal record that was made with both a sense of urgency and a cathartic need. Just finished, it's being released with equal speed and will be out digitally this Friday (30th November).

Tonra's candid solo songs document the time after a relationship ended and are written like unsent letters to herself and others. Taking on a creative moniker, she chose Ex:Re to mean 'regarding ex' and also 'X-Ray' as a way to look inside and see what is really there. Writing took a year but the recording process lasted mere months, turning to Fabian Prynne (4AD's in-house engineer and producer) and composer Josephine Stephenson on cello to help bring Ex:Re to life.

Elena said of the album, "Although the record is written for someone, a lot of the time it's about the space without that person in it. In every scenario, there's either the person in memory or the noticeable absence of that person in the present moment. I suppose it is a break-up record, however I do not talk about the relationship at all, and he hardly features in the scenes. He is only felt as a ghostly presence."

The first single to be taken from Ex:Re is 'Romance', released today. An ambient song for the dancefloor, its accompanying video (directed by Antonia Luxem) is appropriately set in a club, following Tonra lost in motion.

Watch 'Romance' – smarturl.it/ExRe

Ex:Re's debut show will be take place this coming Wednesday, 28th November at London's Hoxton Hall. Tickets are on sale now from tickets.lnk.to/ExRe

Ex:Re Ex:Re

Where The Time Went

Crushing

New York

Romance

The Dazzler

Too Sad

Liar

I Can't Keep You

5AM

My Heart

EX:RE ONLINE

elenatonra.com

Press Contact:
Annette Lee at 4AD
annettelee@4ad.com